A STORY OF SLAVERY AND THE WAR.—The old adage Truth is stranger than fiction has a new illustration in the following story the incidents of which have a thrilling interest

Thirty-three years ago when slave auctions and slave pens constituted one of the institutions of a Christian civilization in Washington and where human beings were sold like sheep in the shambles a slave trader, after the hero model of Legree in Mrs Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin came to the capital to purchase chattels for a Southern market. A citizen of Washington wealthy, once High Sheriff of the city, and an attendant in one of the churches claimed ownership in two slaves Tobey Reed and Henny, his wife, which the slave dealer saw and purchased for the Southern trade

These two fine-looking and healthy "chattels after the purchase were herded for a whole month with others in one of the slave pens of the city waiting the pleasure of their new owner to start on his voyage South. As some compensation for the sorrows of a slave life Providence had kindly given to Mr and Mrs Reed two interesting children a son and daughter the first eighteen and the other fifteen years of age when their parents were sold to this slave dealer. Like other children, they tenderly and strongly loved their parents and when the daughter heard that her mother was sold to go to the rice and cotton fields of the South, she became frantic with grief and declared that she would drown herself before she would be thus separated from her mother. Their master, with supreme regard to the pecuniary value of his young slave, hastened to find the trader from the South who had purchased the parents and for a round sum in gold also sold the daughter, and all three were shipped South."

The son James belonged to another master, Col Burch, with wet eyes and a broken heart, was permitted to kiss his mother and sister, and parted with them as he supposed, forever. He remained in Washington and after a few years purchased his freedom by his own labor, and by his honesty and industry gained the confidence of all who employed him. He waited upon South'n members of Congress, among whom were Calhoun, Preston, Pickens, R[illegible] and Dixon H. Lewis, who recommended him to Mr. Wickliffe, then Postmaster General under Tyler's administration, as a very worthy and religious colored boy, as they and all Southerners are accustomed to call colored men, and the Postmaster General appointed him as a laborer in the Post Office, where he has remained the last twenty years, as a worthy and trusted employee of the United States Government. He has been for the last thirty years a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and, for the last twelve years a minister of the gospel of that denomination. His mother, he remembers, was a very earnest, devoted and true Christian, and "mighty in religion." His sister, when she left for the South could read a little. For thirty-three years the Rev James Reed [illegible] a word from his parents, until recently, the carrier handed him a letter, which came through the Post Office as a soldier's letter. He opened it, and lo! it was from his sister, who with her old mother (now over eighty,) had been preserved amidst the hard usages and [illegible] of slavery, and wrote her brother the following interesting letter, in her own language, punctuation and penmanship:

NEUNANSVILLE, (Fla.,) Oct. 2, 1865.

Sir James Reed, my dear brother, I take this opportunity of Writing to you these few lines in order to let you know how I am getting along I am well at this time but mother is under the weather and we are anxious to see you as soon as possible. We have nothing Strange to relate to you at present but We Wish you to come 'em as Soon as you can I feel at a great loss for you, as it has been so long since I saw you please come to my relief as soon as possible and oblige your true sister the times seem so lonesome to me Without your Presence my dear brother, if you could only see the present State. In am [illegible] at this time you would not hesitate a minute, but you may know how I feel at your absence and if you comply with my request it will relieve me of a great burden. Circumstances will alter if I could only see you again my dear brother you must try to get here as soon as opportunity will allow if you Can. Don't think your sister has forgot you, So please Comply with my request if you can any Way at all

I Am in a destitute Condition at this time and if not relieved it Will distract me. Oh Dear brother please communicate With me at this time, I can Say that God has protected me because I have bin a faithful Servant as far as my abilitys Would allow, and I hope that you are Well and trying to serve the Lord with all of your heart. This is all my request as my pen is so bad my time is short. Now I will bring my letter to a close good by may God bless you Amen.

Mrs. Christian Valentine your sister till Death please Write soon and oblige your sister But you must Cum as soon as you Can. Directed in the handy writing of the sister to 'Mr. James Reed Washington Post City District of Columbia,' and post marked Soldier's letter, S S Ma[illegible], Capt Com'dg Co I, 3d Reg U S Col Troops.'

The letter and its incidents are the fruits of the great conflict which has overthrown the cruel system of slavery that a generation ago separated this Christian family, and now opened to them through our victorious arms, the [illegible] hope of a speedy and happy reunion. The son, Rev James Reed, is taking immediate measures to send or go after his aged mother and the sister of his youthful days and the meeting of his mother, sister, brother, can be imagined but not described. The father long since perished from the hardships of slavery among the cotton plantations of one of the great slaveholders of the South

Mr Reed is a most worthy man, having the confidence of all in the General Post Office Department, and will be grateful for any pecuniary assistance he may receive from the public to aid him in bringing back to this city and his home his old mother and his sister who will return to their native city, where slavery, slave pens, slave auctions, and slave dealers have been forever abolished by the supreme power of Congress and the Providence of God. Any sum sent to Rev James Reed, will be received by him with a grateful and happy heart, and the donor will have a happier experience of feeling that it is more blessed to give than to receive."

The following is a copy of a letter kindly sent to Mr. Reed. Gen Howard is absent, and the Adjutant Acting Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau fears he has no authority, by law, to give transportation to Mr Reed's family from Florida. The public are requested to aid him:

P O DEPARTMENT WASHINGTON,
Contract Office Oct 17th, 1865

Gen O O Howard Chief of Freedmen's Bureau:—The bearer hereof, James Reed, has been for many years an employee in the Post Office Department and by his correct deportment has won the esteem of all its officers

He has lately received the intelligence that his mother and sister, long since sold as slaves, and from whom he has not heard in thirty years, are living in the South and need his help. He wishes to ask instructions and aid from you to enable him to help them. This is, therefore to introduce and recommend him to you

Any kindness you may show him will lay us under lasting obligations

Very respectfully and truly your obedient servants,

RATHER INHERENT.—Dr John Wilkins wrote in the reign of Charles II to show the possibility of making a voyage to the moon. The Duchess of Newcastle who was likewise notorious for her vagrant speculations said to him "Doctor, where am I to bait at in the upward journey?" "My lady," replied the doctor "of all the people in the world I never expected that question from you who have built so many castles in the air that you might lie every night at one of your own."

PATHOS.—There is a Methodist preacher out West whose praise is thus sounded by a cotemporary "I have repeatedly heard the most famous men in America but there are times when the flame of his pathos links the everlasting hills with a roar that moves your soul to depths fathomed by few other men."

The wife of the prefect of Toulouse is to be made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor in reward for her devotion to the cholera patients of that city. She is the second lady upon whom that distinction has been conferred the first having been the animal-painter Rosa Bonheur.

ANNEXATION OF FORT KLAMATH.—The copperhead Democrats of this county are chafing over the change in the eastern boundary of this county so as to include Fort Klamath. Hon Thomas Beall, James D Fay and their Confederate organ weep mournfully and assign many false reasons why it should not have been annexed to this county without giving the true cause of their lamentations. The true cause of their pitiful complaints is, it will give the Union party of this county from one hundred to one hundred and fifty votes, which, if we can even hold our own, will give us a handsome Union majority at the next June election. Union men of Jackson, don't you pity these poor, almost subjugated copper faced gentry

At our last general election our candidates for Representatives were only beaten by these protesting confederates by from two to thirty-one votes. At the time of this election, Jackson county had upwards of two hundred Union men in the army, and upwards of eighty Union voters were stationed at Fort Klamath, and at the last election there were upwards of eighty Union votes cast there and only one Democratic vote, but owing to the distance from Fort Klamath to the county seat of Wasco, these votes failed to [illegible] there in time to be counted, and our citizens were wholly disfranchised. Since our last general election, another company of infantry, commanded by Captain Sprague, has been raised in this county. Nearly one half of this company voted the Democratic ticket at the last election; but we are creditably informed by [illegible] of the company, that every one will now vote the Union ticket. Captain Kelly's company, which is now at Fort Klamath, has been nearly all recruited in this county. Ten of them also voted the Democratic ticket at our last general election, and all of them will now vote with the Union party without scratching a single name. We also know of ten changes in favor of the Union party, in one precinct in this county; this makes a change of upwards of fifty votes, and a Union gain of over one hundred, which is ten times the [illegible] gained by the Copperheads from the rebel States. Again, we have lost nothing in our general vote, and about forty of our discharged volunteers, who did not vote at our last [illegible] have returned.

With the changes in favor of the Union party, the soldiers that belong to Captains Kelly and Sprague's companies, the employees in and around the Indian Reservation, and our returned volunteers, we will clean out the last vestige of rebel Democracy at the June election.

Poor, little office seeking, Copperhead Fay voted for the bill [illegible] Ft. Klamath, but when the annexation wipes out Copperhead [illegible] next June, hence he protests and wails out, "Oh, we have lost our darling idol, the Southern Confederacy! We have lost [illegible] New Jersey and New York, we have lost even the rebel territories of Washington and New Mexico, and last though not least with the [illegible] we have cut off the [illegible] little democratic [illegible] Jackson county, by the annexation of Ft. Klamath."

Oh, Copperhead Democracy, thou art a squeezed orange, burnt-out socket, a spavined horse, an addled egg, an [illegible] saying corpse! Fit only to be dung upon a [illegible] hill, unworthy of decent burial, it is [illegible] by its [illegible] and managers to the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] Not only is its resurrection [illegible] but nobody thinks it worth while to predict its resuscitation. "The glory-mantle of past [illegible] [illegible] which [illegible] has been torn [illegible] and it now stands [illegible] or [illegible] only in the tattered, filthy garments of [illegible] and damning corruption—a blotch and stain on the record of American politics.—Jacksonville Sentinel

Democracy by Induction

At Lafayette, Yamhill county a "Democratic" paper, hight the Courier is published. This journal is supposed to be Andy Shuck's personal organ. Its style of literature fully warrants us in concluding that he is its Mæcenas. Though a dwarf in size, the Courier is a journal of no mean or even moderate, pretensions. Having been called on by a somewhat temerarious cotemporary to define "Democratic principles," the Courier friskily accepts the challenge and gives the required exposition in a manner which, for comprehensiveness and perspicuity, quite surpasses the best performances of the most learned of its party. The Courier proceeds on the inductive method of that first of philosophers, the Baron of Verulam. "Democratic principles" are defined, first in detail, and then as a whole. The philosopher of the Courier ascends from particulars to one general principle. This principle, from the manner in which it is reached, (for in this investigation we must be true to the inductive system of philosophy) may rightly be supposed to embody all minor ones, and to be in fact the primordial law of the party's being. It may be best set forth in the perspicuous language of the Courier:

The Democracy are opposed to the continuance in office of their opponents, and by the help of God, an earnest effort and an honest showing up of their perfidy, wrongdoing and crime, we hope to succeed, and that speedily in ousting them.

Here then, is a brief, but full, summing up of "Democratic principles." "To oust our opponents from office and install ourselves" is the "principle" contended for. Subsidiary to this, as the Courier tells us, many loyal men of prominence are to be seized, tried and executed "for their crimes against humanity and civilization"—that is to say, for the part they performed in putting down the rebellion. Of course it is clear to all that the more of these patriotic men the "Democracy" can assassinate or hang, the better will be the chances for the final triumph of "Democratic" principles. There is no one but who must admit that the Courier has succeeded beyond all previous attempts, in defining the principles of its party. Nasby himself could not do better. Whoever wants to learn more on this subject, let him ask instruction of nobody but our Pythagoras himself.

Mail Facilities for Eastern Oregon.

For sometime past the inhabitants of a considerable section of the State of Oregon, lying east of the Cascade mountains, and south of the line of the Dalles and Boise mail route, have had no postal accommodations whatever. There has never been a mail route established through any part of the John Day, Middle Fork, Granite Creek, Olive Creek or Dixie Mining Districts. The whole county of Grant, and a considerable portion of Wasco and Baker counties, have never had any mail facilities whatever, except a special service bet— the Dalles and Canyon City for a few months in 1864, which was rather permitted than provided, and for which nothing was paid by the Government. The population of the section of country thus unprovided with the U. S. Mail, is greater than is generally supposed, and the attention of the Post Office Department should have been specially called to the matter a long time ago, and doubtless would have been, had the citizens of that part of the State taken the matter in hand and furnished information to the proper officers of the Department.

Grant county has a population of over 3,000—a large proportion of whom are farmers, who have settled in the valleys of the John Day River for the purposes of Agriculture, intending to make permanent homes for themselves. From what is known of the resources of that region, and the class of people settling there, it is quite safe to say the population of Grant county will never be less than at present. Indeed it promises to be much greater, as the mining interests of the county are of a permanent character, and the agricultural resources offer inducements which will not pass unnoticed by those in search of homes. That section of Wasco, also unprovided with mails, is such that its population will be permanent and thrifty. And though Baker county is in part furnished with mails by the upper route, there is still a large and valuable district of the country unprovided. All these points could be accommodated by a single route, with but one branch, and that by no means an unusual one. The whole service for that section of country could be performed at much less cost than might be supposed, and the route is one that is more urgently demanded by the rapid development of that region of the State, than any other now asked. And its establishment would not contemplate the discontinuance of the route now established, as the portions of country so accommodated by both are naturally and geographically separate, and require a separate line for each. The route here proposed is the same for which a memorial passed the Legislature at its last special session.

The matter has been laid before Mr Brooks, Postal Agent for this District, by Judge Hill of Grant county, and we are informed the project of establishing the new route has Mr. Brooks' hearty approval, and that a plan is maturing for supplying the mails to all that part of the State at the earliest day possible. This will be directly conducive to the growth and prosperity of the entire State, by hastening the development and increasing the population of one of its most valuable districts.

JOSH BILLINGS AT EUGENE CITY.—The good people of Eugene City have discovered that they have a "Democratic" Josh Billings among them. A friend sends us a copy of a notice which is posted conspicuously throughout that town, and which is to be taken as evidence of the presence of the literary gentleman aforesaid. The notice is a printed one, and that full justice may be done to the "Democratic" Marshal of Eugene City, we give an exact copy of the original. Our correspondent informs us that the notice was printed at the Journal office, and that the accommodating editor gave the Marshal the privilege of "setting it up" for himself.

ROAD FROM THE CASCADES TO VANCOUVER.—The Legislature of Washington Territory, at its last session appropriated one thousand dollars from the Territorial Treasury to improve the road from the Upper Cascades to Vancouver. The appropriation was made on condition that an additional thousand be raised from other sources for the same purpose. A subscription has been started at Vancouver with the view of obtaining this sum so as to enable the road to be constructed.

ANTI-"DEMOCRATIC."—A "Democrat," residing in one of the villages up the valley writes to a brother "Democrat" in this city in the following dolefully significant strain: "Teetotalism is rampant here. Unless we can put a stop to this infernal temperance mania the glorious old Democracy will go to the dogs before the next June election."

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 7.

More Steamboat Explosions.

VICKSBURG Feb 3.—The steamer W. Carter exploded her boiler at 3 o'clock this morning at Island No. 98. A large number of lives were lost. The steamer Evening Star brought many of the saved here.

CINCINNATI Feb 4.—An investigation into the cause of the explosion of the M[illegible] held at Memphis yesterday, shows that the first and second engineers knew the boilers were in bad order before the boat left port.

NEW ORLEANS Feb [illegible].—The steamer Belle lying at the foot of Custom House street blew up and sunk immediately. There were only a few persons on board. The Captain and Engineer were killed. Two or three passengers on the levee were killed by splinters. Several steamers along side were injured.

Fire at Oswego, N. Y.

ALBANY Feb 4.—A fire in Oswego, New York this morning, destroyed several dry goods stores. Loss large.

Jeff. Davis Growing Irascible.

NEW YORK Feb 4.—The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent says Jeff Davis's imprisonment and the public execration of his crimes have made him irritable and soured his temper. His attention is now chiefly given to faultfinding and reading the bible.

Treason Rewarded

WASHINGTON Feb 4.—It is mentioned in diplomatic circles that the wife of Signor Bertinatti, Italian Minister, who before her marriage was Mrs Brest, of Vicksburg, has received from the Quartermaster General $50,000 the value of her property appropriated or destroyed by our army at the capture of that place in 1863. Madam Bertinatti, formerly Mrs Brest resided in Vicksburg up to the time of investment by our army and has all along been an ardent sympathizer with the rebellion.

BOSTON, Feb 6.—the steamship Palmerston, from Liverpool January 23d, has arrived. The Emperor Napoleon in his speech says, an arrangement is being made to withdraw the French troops from Mexico. It is hoped this will pacify the people of the United States who were invited to join the expedition, but declined although such an expedition was not opposed to their interests.

The Russian encroachment in Central Asia has latterly assumed a new phase. It is now conceded by the Anglo Indian press that the slow but sure advances made by the Russian Government in Central Asia are endangering the future safety of England's Indian Empire. The Bombay Gazette admits that England is utterly helpless to prevent Russia from proceeding in her career of conquest at the same time bears testimony to the wonderful civilizing influence of Russia upon Asia.

Connecticut Politics.

HARTFORD, Feb 7.—The Democratic State Convention to day was the largest held for many years. James E. English of New Haven was nominated for Governor, E. L. Hyde, of Hartford, for Lieutenant Governor. The resolutions passed endorsed the restoration policy of President Johnson.

New Hampshire Politics.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb 8.—The Democratic State Convention to day was the largest held for many years. J. B. Sinclair, of Bethlehem, was nominated for Governor, and G. H. Price, of Dover, for Railroad Commissioner. The resolutions adopted endorse the President in his endeavors to have the Southern States represented and his discountenance of any amendment to the Constitution.

More Sensation Rumors about Mexico.

NEW YORK, Feb 6.—The World's Washington special dispatch says. Our Government has arrived at an understanding with France, and to all intents and purposes the difficulty is settled. The French troops are to leave Mexico, and the United States has waived all intention to interfere for or against Mexico. There will be no formal recognition of the Empire, but a quasi recognition of its establishment, whereby the necessary consular action may be established on both sides. It is not likely that the French troops will leave Mexico before the close of the year, their places being supplied by Austrians, Belgians and such Mexicans as accept the Empire.

The Tribune's special despatch says. The Government, taking the ground that blockade running was a part of the rebellion, has sent agents south to seize all property belonging to blockade runners, and to require them to state under oath the names of their associates, the amount of their business profits, etc.

The Bagdad Affair

NEW ORLEANS, Feb 5.—Civil proceedings have been commenced by Texas State officers at Brownsville against the parties implicated in the Bagdad affair. Col R. M. Hill assumed command at Brazos on the 1st. The Austrian troops at Bagdad are commanded by Col Cakel. The labor prospects are more cheering.

Educational Movement.

WASHINGTON, Feb 6.—A meeting of State and City School Superintendents assembled here to day to make a national organization and urge the establishment of a Bureau of Education.

Pacific Railroad.

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—The Pacific Railroad commissioners have adopted the following plan, reported by the engineers. While the law makes the grade and levels adopted on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad the standard, this is only to be considered the limit in the mountain district introducing grades 116 feet per mile or curves as sharp as 40 feet radius on the other part of the road would manifestly violate the special intent of the order. The grade should be settled upon principles of true economy and their adoption based on careful scientific and practical investigation having due regard to the cost of construction and the future working of the road. It is safe to say that in an advance on the Platte and Kansas valley, and on similar smooth valleys or level plains, no grade should exceed 30 feet per mile, and on all parts of the main line or branches the embankments should not be less than 24 feet wide.

This morning a large number of citizens of Montana Territory called on the President; P. M. Kennedy, United States Marshal for the territory; Chief Justice Hosmer, Gen Burrows and twenty five or thirty others. Gen Burrows submitted to the inspection of the President on behalf of the delegation a large number of specimens of gold bearing quartz obtained in different portions of the territory, which were examined with much interest by the President when the interview terminated.

Louis Napoleon's Speech on Mexican Affairs

As I expressed the hope last year that our expedition to Mexico was approaching a termination, I am coming to an understanding with Maximilian so to fix the epoch for the recall of our troops without compromising French interests which we have been defending in that remote country. The United States of North America issuing victoriously from her late struggle, has re-established the Union of the States and proclaimed slavery dead. France, which forgets no page of her history, offers up her sincere wishes for the prosperity of the American Republic and for the maintenance of amicable relations which soon will have calmer direction. The emotion produced in the United States by the presence of our troops on Mexican soil, will be pacified by the frankness of our declarations. The American people will comprehend that our expedition to which we invited them was not opposed to their interests. Two nations equal and jealous of their independence, ought to avoid every step which might affect their dignity and honor.

General News.

CHICAGO Feb 6.—Butler's paper mill, at St. Charles near this place, supplying the dailies with paper was burned yesterday. Loss, $110 000. Insurance $20 000.

The owners of the steamships Rising Star, Guiding Star, etc now used on the New Orleans line are forming a company at New York headed by Wm H Aspinwall to run an opposition to San Francisco by the 20th. It is reported that the new line is not intended to be permanent but to make a break in the P. M. stock so that operators may buy in.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that inland and domestic bills of lading are not subject to stamp duties as such, but when they contain an agreement or contract they require a five cent stamp for each sheet on which they are written.

The recent disasters on the Western rivers have been attributed to the use of tubular boilers and underwriters have decided to take no more risks on such steamboats.

Wm. Sampson, Chief Justice of Kentucky died yesterday at Glasgow, Kentucky, after a protracted illness.

WASHINGTON, Feb 5.—The council of Generals concluded its deliberations to-day and will separate to-morrow returning to their several departments. The only known result of the council is its action on the army legislation pending before Congress. If their recommendation be followed the minimum number of the regular army will be about 50,000 men, which the President is authorized to increase whenever necessary by the addition of two companies to each regiment and by increasing the number in each company till the minimum shall be 100. It is believed the army thus constituted will be sufficient to garrison the South. The council strongly opposed the present system of arming the militia of the South and urged that it be at once discontinued.

The Government directors and the commissioners and engineers of the Pacific Railroad, which have been for some days in session have adjourned to day. They adopted a standard for the construction of the road and measures to facilitate the steady progress of the work. Reports were received from the west giving assurance that the utmost energy is being used to forward the enterprise.

The rebel ex Secretary Trenholm, has testified before the Treasury Agent at Charleston that at the downfall of Richmond the Confederacy had but $120,000 specie and that neither Jeff Davis or any member of the cabinet took any of this but that it was paid to the soldiers of Johnston's army.

CHICAGO Feb 6.—The report of S. S. Hayes one of the Revenue Commissioners is published in the Tribune to day, and has been offered to Congress. He recommends a special permanent tax of seventy one hundredths of one per cent in lawful money, upon all securities and other indebtedness of the United States owned either at home or abroad, the proceeds to be held and applied as a trust fund for the payment of the public debt. The colleagues of Hays agreed that he might make a separate report and it is enough to say that he has done it, and that it is disapproved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON Feb 5.—In the Senate Wilson of Massachusetts, presented the petition of Gen Sheridan and other officers for an increase of pay. Referred.

Chandler, of Michigan from the committee on commerce reported the House bill to prevent the issue of American registers to vessels whose owners carried foreign registers during the war.

In the House, Blair, of Pennsylvania introduced a bill, which was referred to the committee on reconstruction providing for taking the census prior to the 1st of October next.

Briggs, offered a resolution which was adopted instructing the committee on reconstruction to consider the subject of removing the National Capital in order that its site may be an accommodation to the population.

Mr Farnsworth of Illinois offered a resolution of inquiry as to repeal of that part of the revenue laws which give fine for infringements.

WASHINGTON, Feb 5.—In the Senate, Nye of Nevada, filed the bill for the relief of Paymaster Rattenhouse of the Pacific squadron for loss of funds stolen.

In course of the discussion, Wilson of Massachusetts, who opposed the measure said the Government had lost not less than a quarter of a million dollars through the negligence of paymasters, and he therefore thought it best to hold every one to a strict account and not set a bad precedent at this time, when there were so many settlements due.

Pending the above, Fessenden of Maine, called up the House Constitutional amendment to notice when Sumner took the floor and delivered a speech against the amendment, favoring another proposition offered by himself, providing for negro suffrage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Senate took up House resolution for amending the Constitution. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, offered the following substitute. "After the census to be taken in 1870, and each succeeding census representation shall be apportioned among the several States within the United States, according to the number in each State of men over twenty-one years of age, qualified by the laws thereof to choose members of the most numerous branch of the legislature, and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States according to the value of the real and personal taxable property situated in each State not belonging to the State or the United States."

Sumner, of Massachusetts resumed his speech commenced yesterday, and concluded, after which the Senate went into executive session and adjourned. The Freedmen's Bureau bill, as passed by the House differs from the Senate bill in the following particular. The salary of the Sub District Agents is fixed at $1,200, instead of $1,500. The number of clerks allowed Assistant Commissioner is three instead of six. The operations of the Bureau were confined to the States in which on February, 1866, the privilege of habeas corpus was suspended. It is provided that no person shall be deemed destitute, suffering or dependent on the Government for support who being able to find employment, could, by proper industry and exertion, avoid such a state of affairs or dependence, and at the end of the Sea Island section which confines the negroes in their occupancy for three years, is a clause providing that whenever the former owners of the lands now occupied under Gen Sherman's field order, making order for restoration of said lands, the commissioners are authorized under agreement and with the written consent of said occupants to procure by rent or purchase, or assignment under the provisions of this bill, other lands for them not exceeding 40 acres for each occupant. It is believed that these amendments will be agreed to by the Senate.

The following nominations were confirmed by the Senate: S. Garfield, of Washington Territory, Surveyor General for said Territory; John Wilson of Peoria, Illinois, Consul at Antwerp; Nathaniel Spear, of Indiana, District Attorney, Florida; Fitz Henry Warren of Iowa, Minister resident at Guatemala.

WASHINGTON Feb 6.—The House resumed the consideration of the Senate's Freedman's Bureau bill, and voted down an amendment exempting Kentucky from the operation of the bill by 31 against 141. Stevens' substitute for the bill by which liberal titles to lands were secured to the freedmen was rejected by 37 ayes against 126 noes. The House then passed the bill with an amendment from the committee, ayes, 136 nays, 44. The amendment covers all objections about the Carolina Sea Islands, by providing that if the freedmen be ejected from the same an equal quantity of land shall be allotted them elsewhere.

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—In the House to day the following Senate bills were passed: extending the time for the completion of the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad from July to December; giving the franking privilege to Mrs Lincoln during her life, and a joint resolution appropriating $10,000 to pay the expenses of the reconstruction committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—The Senate passed the House bill to prevent the release of American registers to vessels where their registers were changed during the war. Yeas 31, noes, 10.

The joint resolution on representation was taken up when Mr Fessenden took the floor. He spoke at length in favor of the resolution, reviewed Mr Sumner's speech and showed the impracticability of that gentleman's proposition.

THEATRE.—The attendance at Willamette Theatre on Saturday evening was good. Though not so large as on many former occasions, it was plainly a better paying house than ordinary. The performance was excellent. The play of "The Stranger" was rendered in the usual [illegible] style of the popular company. Johnny Ma[illegible] danced the hornpipe between pieces, and the entertainment closed with the pleasing farce of "Somebody Else," which was enacted in about as fine style as any company we have yet witnessed upon the Portland stage. This evening a good bill is offered. Mrs. Phelps as Victorine in the interesting [illegible] of the "Seven Clerks," and Mary Copp, with song, in the comedy of "Laughable [illegible] in the life of Charles [illegible]."

ACCIDENT.—On Friday night a man named King walked off the new sidewalk on Washington street, at the [illegible] of Fifth—at the place where the crossing ought to be, near the center of the walk—and broke one of his lower limbs. He lay in the street, unable to walk, for some time before any assistance was rendered him, as few were passing that way. In case he is a poor man we presume no further notice will be taken of the matter, but were he rich there is little doubt but that the corporation would be obliged to "come down" to him, as it is a question whether the city is not liable to community for the absurd manner in which these crossings are being put down, so far out of the usual course persons are most naturally inclined to travel.

NEWS FAVORS.—Barrett, of the News Depot, sent us last evening a large lot of the best and latest papers and periodicals from the Eastern States and California. Harper's, Leslie's, Wilkes' Spirit, the Round Table, &c., are among them. We also notice a new publication entitled Every Saturday, Fowler & Wells' annual of Phrenology, &c., a copy of which is sent us, contains sketches of President Lincoln and Johnson, with Generals Grant and Sherman, John Bright, Richard Cobden, Cornelius Vanderbilt, and many other persons of note. Barrett has all the latest papers ready for sale this morning.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The Court of Commissioners adjourned on Saturday last after transacting considerable business, the brief of which is as follows: Auditing sundry bills presented; appointing viewers for changing the location of county roads petitioned for; [illegible] the order heretofore made consolidating districts No. 6, 15, 16, 11, and 18, re-establishing the districts as they previously existed, and appointing supervisors therefor; correcting [illegible] levied for taxes.

FAST TIME.—The steamer Reliance, of the People's Transportation Company, left Oregon City on Thursday morning last, and made the trip through to Salem, with nine landings, in seven hours—the actual running time six hours and thirty minutes. This is the fastest time by thirty minutes yet made on the upper Willamette, and we are [illegible] that no more steam than is allowed by the Inspector was used on the occasion.

OVERBOARD.—As the steamer was landing last evening a man who had paid his passage to Portland, and did not wish to further incumber the company after arriving here, walked into the broad Willamette. The cry of "man overboard" brought assistance, and he was soon rescued apparently uninjured but minus a hat.

NOT FROTHINGTON.—The individual who went to see the elephant on Thursday night, and "loaned the city" twenty dollars, was not Mr. Frothington, and we are asked to correct the statement made on Saturday, in justice to that gentleman. The similarity of the names occasioned the mistake—the person arrested was C. L. Worthington.

SOIREE.—The Portland Liedertafel, one of the German Societies of this city, have fitted up a fine hall in the building corner of Front and C streets, occupied by Mr. Schrader, where they meet for rehearsal at stated times. To-morrow evening they propose giving a social dance in entertainment of their friends, and a fine evening of social recreation is anticipated.

TO VOLUNTEERS.—Notice appears in another column of this paper, published by order of the County Commissioners, relative to the payment of bounties to volunteers under the provisions and in pursuance of an order made by the Court December 10th, 1864.

IMMIGRATION.—After the arrival of the steamer last evening, passengers by her were seen taking their departure by carriage for homes on the east side. This may be considered an indication of the future. The ferry now runs at night as long as there is anything to do.

TUMBLED OVER.—A large wood pile on a vacant lot between Vine and Ash streets, near Front, toppled over last night, making a "heap" of confusion. A portion of the pile fell upon the side walk, but fortunately nobody was hurt. People can draw their own conclusions regarding the safety of men and women from such events.

REPAIRED.—Assistant Superintendent Whitlesey, of the Telegraph Company, has recently been employed in repairing the link at this place in the great girdle which now so nearly encircles the globe. The cable had become defective at an old splice, and was taken up, with assistance of the propeller Iris Fisk, repaired and again submerged. The line is now generally in shape for use.

CAPTURED.—Geo. W. Wright, the fugitive horse thief, was captured at Vancouver on Saturday. He will be placed in his quarters this forenoon, as an officer goes by the Cascade this morning prepared to fetch him to the scratch.

FINE WEATHER.—The weather yesterday was all that could be desired. No enthusiast of this latter day could command language sufficient to give the world an idea of it. It must be felt to be appreciated.

THE OREGON.—By passengers from San Francisco last evening we learn that the steamship Oregon had not yet reached that place when the Pacific left. The Oregon cleared from Astoria on last Monday for San Francisco.

FROM ASTORIA.—The steamer John H. Couch, Captain Holmes, arrived at six o'clock on Saturday from Astoria. No vessels were in, or seen off the bar. The river was clear of all ocean craft.

MAILS BY THE STEAMER.—A large amount of mail matter from California and the east arrived by the steamer last evening.

By private advices from Washington we learn that Col. Nesmith has succeeded in inducing the Second Assistant Postmaster General to advertise for mail service between the Dalles and Canyon City. Offers have also gone forward to temporarily tender the service for the minimum price per mile on any mail route in Oregon. We congratulate our Canyon City friends on the probability of having mail communication at an early day.

Along the canyon of John Day River and from the Des Chutes to the south east the winter appears to have ended. At Aikuh Flat half way from here to Canyon City preparations are being made for sowing grain, and much ground is already plowed. At Canyon City the snow has entirely disappeared, and the weather is warm and spring like. But for the loss of bridges and the muddy and cut up condition of the roads, there is nothing now to prevent the resumption of the usual spring traffic with the John Day mines.

It is now so far advanced towards spring that we may reasonably hope that our communications with the Lower Columbia will not be again cut off or at most for two or three days. The railroad at the Cascades is open for traffic, and between here and Celilo the road is in repair. It is now only necessary that the ice above Des Chutes should break up, and the business campaign of 1866 will be fairly inaugurated. The melting mood which nature at present wears will soon break the barrier with which winter has bound up the river so that it is full time for those who have anything to do to be getting ready for an early start.

Lee's Surrender Premeditated—The following passage is from the forthcoming volume of Pollard's Southern history of "The Fourth Year of the War":

There can be no doubt in history that General Lee, in taking his army away from Richmond and Petersburg had decided in his own mind, upon the hopelessness of the war, and had predetermined its surrender. The most striking proof of this is, that on his retreat there was no order published against straggling—a thing unprecedented in all deliberate and strategic retreats—and nothing whatever done to maintain discipline. The men were not animated by the style of general orders usual on such occasions. They straggled and deserted almost at will. An idea ran through the Virginia troops that with the abandonment of Richmond the war was hopeless, and that they would be justified in refusing to fight outside the limits of their State. Nothing was done to check the notorious circulation of this notion in the army. The Virginia troops scattered off to their homes at almost every mile of the route. We have seen that Pickett was only left with a handful of men. Some of the brigade commanders had not hesitated to advise their men that the war was virtually over, and that they had better go home and "make crops."

But there are other proofs, besides the omission of the measures against straggling usual on retreats, that General Lee had provided a surrender of his army. He carried off from Petersburg, and Richmond all the transportation of his army, sufficient, perhaps, for one hundred thousand men, certainly largely in excess of the actual needs of the retreat. The excessive number of Virginia troops who were permitted to drop out of the ranks and return to their homes shows very well that there was no firm purpose to carry the war out of the limits of the State. Prisoners taken on the retreat invariably reported that the army was soon to be halted for a surrender; and General Custis Lee, when captured by the enemy, is alleged to have made the same revelation of his father's designs.

Irish Schoolboys.—The master put rather a small class in attendance through a lesson in Biblical knowledge, and then proceeded to display some of the practical instructions received by his pupils. "Now, boys, you know Donneybrook Fair?"

"Yes, sir, we do." (Every hand up.)

"Is it right to go to Donneybrook Fair?"

"No, sir, it is not."

"What is it?"

"It is a sin, sir."

"Very well, boys," replied the master.

Turning to his English visitor, "You see we do not neglect to inculcate practical precepts as well as religious opinions."

"Quite true," said the visitor; "but may I be allowed to put a question to the boys myself?"

"O, certainly, sir, whatever you please."

"Well, then, boys—tell me honestly—every boy who has been to Donneybrook this year, hold up his hand."

Up went every hand in the same class! Of course the boys being Irish, saw the intensity of the joke, and the master being of the same nation, was not more backward, in spite of his defeat, and visitor, teacher and scholars joined in a good hearty roar, which had calmed down when one little gamin of the class stepped forward and put up his hand.

Please, sir, I want to go to Donneybrook to distribute tracts!

As the idea of any urchin going to Donneybrook to sell tracts, or coming alive out of it if he did, was utterly incredible, the laugh broke out again with renewed violence, till the visitor took his departure.

A Yankee Anecdote.—Andy Cummins, who used to live near Framingham, Ct., was a cute "down-easter"—a real live Yankee—alway ready for a joke, and hard to beat. He was once in a country bar-room "down South," where several gentlemen were assembled when one of them said:

"Yankee Cummins you go out and stick your penknife into anything, when you come back, I'll tell you what it's sticking in."

"I'll bet ten dollars of it," answered the Southerner.

"Wal, I rather guess I'll take that ere bet! Here, captain (turning to the landlord,) hold stakes, and I'll just make half a saw-horse less than no time."

The parties deposited an X apiece, and Cummins went on his mission, but in a short time returned, saying:

"Wal, neighbor, what is it sticking in?"

"Guess not; just wait a minute," said the Yankee, as he held out the handle of the knife minus the blade. "I kalkilate the blade can't be in the handle, when it's driv clean up in an old stump aside the road out there."

Cummins, of course, won the wager, and the Southerner sloped to parts unknown, amid roars of laughter.

Domestic Perplexities.—I got acquainted with a young widow, who lived with her step-daughter in the same house. I married the widow; my father fell, shortly after, in love with my wife's step-daughter, and married her. My wife became the mother-in-law and also the daughter-in-law of my father; my wife's step-daughter is my step-mother, and I am the step-father of my mother-in-law. My step-mother, who is the step-daughter of my wife, has a boy; he is naturally my step-brother, because he is the son of my father and of my step-mother; but because he is the son of my wife's step-daughter, so is my wife the grandmother of the little boy, and I am the grandfather of my step-brother. My wife has also a boy; my step-mother is consequently the step-sister of my boy, and is also his grandmother, because he is the child of her step-son, and my father is the brother-in-law of my son, because he has got his step-sister for his wife. I am the brother of my own son, who is the son of my step-mother; I am the brother-in-law of my mother, my wife is the aunt of her own son, my son is the grandson of my father, and I am my own grandfather.

"While in Augusta, the [illegible] day I saw Alexander H. Stephens [illegible], with most marvelous eyes, looking as much like a human being as like a character from one of Dickens' stories. That if Georgia has reverence for anybody it is Stephens; and there isn't the least question but that his presence in the State is beneficial in the half at [illegible]. He [illegible] all [illegible] to make a public speech, but I am told, that he converses freely with all who call upon him, and that he urges everybody to accept the issue of the war in the most cheerful and liberal spirit. While in Columbus, two weeks ago, I was told of a letter he wrote to a friend in that city immediately after the famous Hampton Roads conference. I tried, in every way, to get a sight of it, but without success. The gentleman who told me of it has read it, and used these words in respect thereto: 'He said that peace could be obtained on terms not humiliating to the South, and that it ought to be made at once, but Davis and his principal advisers did not want peace.'"

Sometime last fall I sent you an account of a woman shoemaker, living in Union, Tolland county, Connecticut, and who in four months, besides doing her household work, had, with the help of her boy to do the pegging, earned $180 in bottoming thick half double-soled boots. There is another chapter to the story. After that time, during the winter, she made shoemaking a kind of secondary business till about the 15th of April, when she commenced on a six months' contract, with nothing to hinder but her ordinary household work, and I find, by examining the books of her employers, that with the aid of her boy to do the pegging, she has earned in six months in bottoming thick half double-soled boots, $346. Truly, many daughters have done well, but I think she excels them all. If any woman shoemaker can do better, I would like to know where to find her.

Return of the Explorer Du Chaillu.—At a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society in London, on the 17th of November, Sir Roderick Murchison announced the failure of two African expeditions, on the success of which the Society had set its heart. One was the expedition fitted out by Baron Von der Decken to explore the interior of Africa from the east coast. The other was that of M. Du Chaillu, who expended the little fortune he had acquired by the sale of his book, in fitting out a fresh expedition, filling a vessel with everything requisite for such a purpose. He penetrated a considerable distance into the interior of Africa, when the small-pox broke out among the natives, who considered him the cause of it and became his enemies. It appears that M. Du Chaillu had undergone great difficulties. Sir Roderick had received a dispatch from Dartmouth, and he understood that M. Du Chaillu had arrived in London: "Obliged to fight my way back to the coast. Wounded twice. Astronomical observations and journals saved."

The Boston Post says that brandy applications are recommended for baldness, continued externally until the hair is well started, and afterward taken in generous quantities internally, to clinch the roots.

The population of Iceland at the beginning of the present century was 47,200, and is now 67,000, showing an increase of only ½ per cent. The population of the Faroe Isles and Greenland has increased in the same period by 73 and 68 per cent respectively. In 1860 the Faroe Isles had 8,265 inhabitants, Greenland 6 060.

Regulations for Lent.

1. All the week days of Lent, from Ash Wednesday till Easter Sunday, are fast days of precept, on one meal, with the allowance of a moderate collation in the evening, and a cup of tea or coffee with a small piece of dry bread in the morning.

2. The precept of fasting implies that also of abstinence from the use of flesh meat. But by dispensation, the use of flesh meat is allowed in this Diocese, once a day at the principal meal, on all Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays of Lent, Holy Thursday excepted; and at every meal on all the Sundays. By the foregoing dispensation, there remain only three days of abstinence every week from Ash Wednesday till the Holy Week, of which the last four days are of strict abstinence.

3. The regular meal is not, without reasonable cause, to be taken long before noon.

4. The use of flesh meat and fish at the same meal is prohibited.

5. There is no prohibition to use eggs, butter, milk and cheese. Lard may be used in preparing fish and vegetables, &c., in all Lent. This dispensation extends also to the days of abstinence throughout the year.

6. The Church excuses from the obligation of fasting, (but not of abstinence from flesh meat, except in special case of sickness or the like,) the following classes of persons, viz: the infirm, those whose duties are of an exhausting or laborious character, those under twenty-one years of age or only attaining their growth, women in pregnancy or nursing infants, and those who are enfeebled by old age.

7. It is eminently in the spirit of the Church that such persons should supply in part by good works, for what is remitted in fasting and abstinence.

8. Fervent prayer and almsdeeds, according to each one's ability ought to be inseparable companions of our fasting. These three sisters should go hand in hand, to help us in our warfare against our three mortal enemies, the flesh, the world, and the devil. According to the advice of the Angel to Tobias, xii, 8: "Prayer is good with fasting and alms, more than to lay up treasure of gold." The practice of these three eminent good works we must oppose to that triple concupiscence which reigns in the world, (1, St John, 1, 16) and by means of which Satan maintains his unhappy reign. By fasting we overcome the lust of the flesh; by almsdeeds we subdue the lust of the eyes by which we are apt to covet the mammon of the world and its empty toys; and by fervent and humble prayer we conquer the pride of life and put to flight the devil, the king of pride. Let us call on in this holy season those powerful auxiliaries to help us in our warfare. There is a very praiseworthy practice kept in many Christian houses in saying the Rosary and evening prayers in families every day in Lent. This holy exercise we would recommend to be practiced by all during Lent.

9. But all ought to remember that the very soul of the fasting is the inward spirit, which is a penitential spirit. This penitential spirit implies a deep sense of the guilt of our sins, a horror and detestation of all our past disloyalties and treasons, and a hearty sorrow for them; a sincere desire to return to God and renounce our sinful ways for the future; and, particularly, a readiness of mind to make the best satisfaction we are able to the Divine Justice by penancing ourselves for our sins. Fasting in this spirit cannot fail of moving God to mercy.

10. The usual evening exercises of Lent, in the churches, consisting of the Rosary of the Blessed Virgin Mary, an instruction, and the Benediction of the Holy Sacrament, are recommended on every Wednesday and Friday during the Lent.

Given at Portland, Oregon, February 8, 1866.

† F. N. BLANCHET, Archbishop of O. C.

P. S.—The dispensation of abstinence, viz:

1. On all the Saturdays of the year which are not fasting days of obligation;
2. On the Wednesdays of Advent;
3. On the three Rogation days;
4. On certain days in Lent;

Has been renewed at Rome for ten years from June 12th 1865 for the whole Ecclesiastical Province of Oregon City.

THAT OLD GREENBACK CASE!

making less than two fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.

THE STANDARD AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship as the best and only reliable tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ, in the construction of our tables, a variety of machines specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player, M. Berger, has published the following opinion:

"New York, 2d August, 1861.

"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "BILLIARD CUE," a journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

M. E. HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

"That every person, firm, company or corporation required by this Ordinance to obtain a License to engage in any trade, business or profession, for which a License is required by this Ordinance, shall pay to the City Treasurer such sum or sums as hereinafter provided.

Thereupon, with the receipt of the City Treasurer which receipt shall set forth the kind of business for which License is desired, they shall apply to the City Auditor who shall issue a License to the parties applying in accordance with the receipt of the Treasurer."
